

About VentureDeal

VentureDeal provides comprehensive information about technology startups at an affordable price to service firms, technology companies and venture investors. VentureDeal subscribers receive full company and transaction information about companies that are getting funded and acquired, along with information about who is involved - right down to the individual decision maker, venture partner and company CEO.

Description

At a subscription rate of $25 per month, the site allows subscribers of all types full viewing access to its exclusive database. Additional features include the ability to receive transaction notifications by email and self-administration for multi-user corporate accounts, allowing subscribers to customize their experience and maximize the benefits of this service.

The VentureDeal database is updated daily with all venture-backed transaction announcements in the United States. With thousands of transactions dating back to January 1, 2003, as well as thousands of companies and active venture investors, the VentureDeal database provides unparalleled historical searching as well.

VentureDeal has a wide range of subscribers from law firms with emerging company practices, consulting firms that serve the venture and technology industries, technology companies using the site during their funding search process and venture investors.

Don Jones, Founder

A member of the legendary funding firm Band of Angels and a veteran of three prior startups, Don most recently was with Cogent Communications (CCOI), a Cisco-backed international all-optical telecom carrier. His particular area of expertise is in early-stage business development and sales, with over 15 years of successful results in a variety of organizations.

His close relationships with investors, technology companies and professional service firms allow Don to provide the highest quality, detailed emerging company transaction information for business opportunity, funding search and venture investment needs.